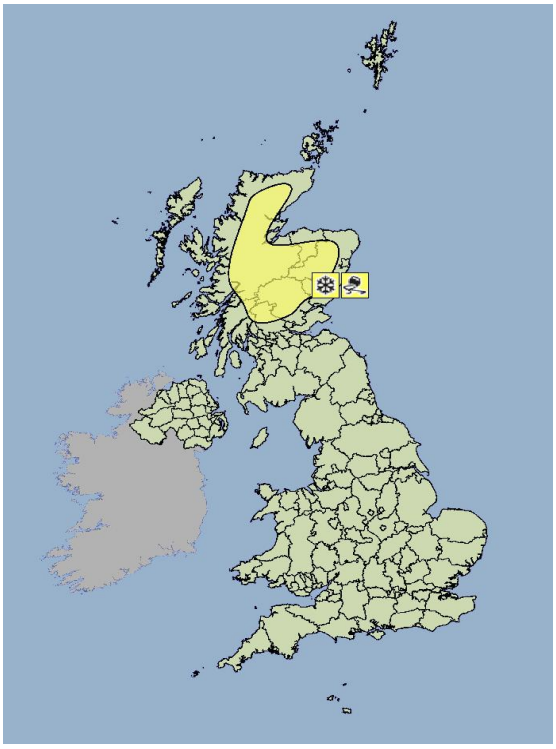
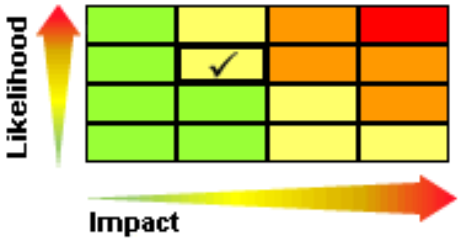
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Further spells of snow will affect hills and mountains over the northern half of Scotland today. 2-5 cm of snow is expected to accumulate above 200 m, with locally 5-10 cm possible over the highest routes, above 400 m.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Snow and Ice

Valid from 11:40 on Mon, 05th Mar 2018 until 23:55 on Mon, 05th Mar 2018

Spells of snow will continue to affect parts of Scotland, bringing further accumulations in places as well as icy stretches on untreated surfaces. Snow will mainly fall inland on hills and mountains. Further delays to travel and public transport could occur.
